

#NoRoomFor Supporting a Safe and Respectful Community

What do you feel are the qualities that make up a “Safe and Respectful Student Community”?

The University of Newcastle in conjunction with NUSA, NUPSA, and Yourimbah are collecting the thoughts and perspectives of students. We are doing this in three ways: group consultations, vox pops (make sure to say hi if you see us!) and online.

From these conversations, we will be publishing a student devised and driven manifesto celebrating this. Your input through the wiki survey will feed into this also.

This wiki survey is completely anonymous, and requires no log in or registration.

You can vote as many, or as few times as you like, and most importantly, you can add your OWN IDEAS which will then get added to the mix.

What we do with the information

We will group the responses into similar themes where possible, and build these into a manifesto from the Students of UoN to the Students of UoN to support a safe and respectful student community.

Subsequently, we will be rolling out a campaign of messaging on the things that don't belong in a safe and respectful community.

If during this experience, the discussion raises any sensitive material to you, the University provides free, confidential support through a number of avenues and different formats.
